

ORGANIC SEED IN
Renee's Garden

Our company goal is to offer home gardeners a wide selection of the very best heirloom, open-pollinated and hybrid seeds. We choose varieties from all over the world that grow easily and perform well. At the present time, continuous supplies of reliably certified, organically grown seeds are not available for most of the varieties we sell.

We actively follow the progress of organic seed production and expect more seed producers both here and abroad to expand organic seed availability in the near future. Our standards for buying seeds are very high, not only for germination and purity, but for proof of absence of seed-borne pathogens; so we are willing to wait for the quality seeds we require.

Supporting sustainable farming practices is an integral part of Renee's Garden. We give our business to a wide range of small organic seed growers and farmer cooperatives whenever they can provide the grade of seed we want to supply to our customers. All our seeds are untreated with fungicides and we sell no GMO seeds nor do we plan to do so, and have signed the Safe Seed Pledge developed by The Council for Responsible Genetics.

We trial all our selections rigorously in our Felton, CA trial garden and in a variety of locations around the country before offering them to our customers, so you can grow them with confidence.

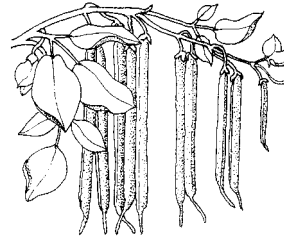

Call us at 888-880-7228
if you need horticultural advice.

THE VERY BEST SEED VARIETIES
CHOSEN BY AND FOR GARDENERS

www.reneesgarden.com

ORGANIC SEED IN
Renee's Garden

Our company goal is to offer home gardeners a wide selection of the very best heirloom, open-pollinated and hybrid seeds. We choose varieties from all over the world that grow easily and perform well. At the present time, continuous supplies of reliably certified, organically grown seeds are not available for most of the varieties we sell.

We actively follow the progress of organic seed production and expect more seed producers both here and abroad to expand organic seed availability in the near future. Our standards for buying seeds are very high, not only for germination and purity, but for proof of absence of seed-borne pathogens; so we are willing to wait for the quality seeds we require.

Supporting sustainable farming practices is an integral part of Renee's Garden. We give our business to a wide range of small organic seed growers and farmer cooperatives whenever they can provide the grade of seed we want to supply to our customers. All our seeds are untreated with fungicides and we sell no GMO seeds nor do we plan to do so, and have signed the Safe Seed Pledge developed by The Council for Responsible Genetics.

We trial all our selections rigorously in our Felton, CA trial garden and in a variety of locations around the country before offering them to our customers, so you can grow them with confidence.

Call us at 888-880-7228
if you need horticultural advice.

THE VERY BEST SEED VARIETIES
CHOSEN BY AND FOR GARDENERS

www.reneesgarden.com