New Varieties for 2010

Gourmet Beets: "Golden"

Golden beets are a beautiful golden-orange color throughout. They stay tender-fleshed and particularly sweet and mild in taste, whether pulled very young or allowed to size up. Cooks love them.

Gourmet Kohlrabi: "Crispy Colors Duo"

Our fast-growing purple and green-skinned Kohlrabi mix makes a pretty picture in garden beds. These extra-fancy hybrids rapidly size up into crispy bulbs with thin skins and crunchy, sweet, white flesh.

Pole Filet Bean: "French Gold"

These hard-to-find, handsome yellow beans are true "haricot verts": classically slim, round 7 to 9 inch pods with delicate, sweet flavor and a crispy snap. Especially choice eating. Heavy bearing, vigorous vines.

Heirloom Pole Beans: "Rattlesnake & Purple Pod"

Heirloom mix: the pretty patterned Rattlesnake beans are delicious as fresh pods or for dried beans. Purple pods are renowned for tenderness, flavor and reliability and their color stands out from vines.

Container Lettuce: "Sweetie Baby Romaine"

Exclusive: New baby romaine bred to be compact, juicy and delicious. Petite vase-shaped heads are heavy for their size with a wonderful, sweet flavor and crisp texture. Long-Lasting; slow bolting; heat tolerant.

Cutting Lettuce: "Sea of Red"

Exclusive: Beautiful new lettuce whose sword shaped leaves are an intense deep, mahogany-red that doesn't fade in the sun. This richly-colored lettuce is a true showstopper in both garden and kitchen.

The Very Best Seed Varieties Chosen by and for Gardeners

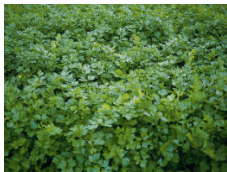

Pole Filet Beans: French “Emerite”

Elegant, classic French "haricot verts" pole beans with especially slim, long rounded pods. Flavor is beany-sweet, delicate, and Emerite's tall vines are vigorous and high yielding. Perfect for gourmet gardeners.

Tapas Pepper: “Spanish Padron”

Exclusive: Gourmet gardeners will love these hard-to-find, authentic little peppers, for easy, "pop in your mouth", delicious sizzling "Tapas" appetizers. The tapered fruits grow abundantly on early bearing, vigorous plants.

Specialty Herbs: “Amsterdam Seasoning Celery”

(Apium graveolens)

A Continental favorite resembling Italian parsley. Grown for its sprays of glossy green, intensely celery-flavored leaves; it does not form thick stalks. Adds a rich, mellow undercurrent to cooked dishes.

Knee-High Sweet Peas: “Jack & Jill”

(Lathyrus odoratus)

Blooming in dainty salmon-rose and soft mid-blue, our perfumed duet grows just 3 feet tall. These nostalgic and charming flowers bloom early offering heat tolerance and strong garden performance.

Double Cosmos: “Rose Bon Bon”

(Cosmos bipinnatus)

Extra fancy, uniformly double blossoms packed with frilled petals in a rich romantic rose. This exceptionally beautiful and care-free new cosmos produces 3 inch flowers that bloom non-stop on long stems.

Bouquet Larkspur: “Singing the Blues”

Consolida ajacis)

Exclusive: Our premium mix features tall flowers with double blossoms in royal blue, violet, blushed blue and soft white. Early blooming for casual bouquets that arrange themselves in the vase.
